DEVON COMMUNITIES TOGETHER: MEASURING OUR IMPACT

April - September 2026

SOCIAL VALUE!

Between April and September 2026, our community benefits have been measured at £833,410!

SOCIAL VALUE ENGINE

We continue to use the Social Value Engine, which uses specialist software to illustrate in financial terms what the value of our activities is to communities. The software was developed by Rose Regeneration and other partners in the Action with Communities in Rural England (ACRE) network, including Devon Communities Together.

We measure our social value against our strategic aims, which are shown above. The total social value DCT created from April-September 2026 has been measured at £833,410.

STRATEGIC ADVOCACY FOR RURAL COMMUNITIES

In the first six months of this year, our senior leadership team has championed rural and coastal communities at 28 different strategic-level meetings, events and partnerships.

With the consultation, decision and subsequent pause on the Local Government Reorganisation process here in Devon, it has never been more important to ensure that rural voices are heard and given full consideration as we navigate these developments.

IMPACT: Policy makers, commissioners and funders are better informed of rural experiences, challenges and inequalities and are driven to consider this when making decisions.

Here's a selection of our rural strategic engagement activities since April 2026 ...

Rural Deprivation and Health: Chaired the Devon Rural Deprivation Partnership, formally designated in June 2026 as the Health and Wellbeing Board's Rural Areas and Access to Services Sub-Group. Co-produced a Health and Wellbeing Board deep-dive session, delivered on 15 October 2026, championing the principle that rurality should not mean poorer access, housing, connectivity or health outcomes.

Continued collaboration with the Devon GP Health Inequalities Fellowship, delivering rural health inequalities presentation to approximately 300 Devon trainee GPs on 1st May 2026.

Digital Inclusion: Chaired five meetings of the Torbay, Plymouth & Devon VCSE Assembly Digital Inclusion Group. We used feedback from this group and our June event to help design the NHS Digital Inclusion Delivery Fund (pg.21).

Data and Insight: Attended six meetings of the Assembly's Data and Insight Workstream Advisory Group, supporting collaboration on data sharing and work to map VCSE data literacy needs. This aims to improve equitable access to research and insight for needs analysis, evidence-based planning and impact measurement.

Economic Development: Attended two Devon & Torbay Combined Authority Business Advisory Group meetings, championing the VCSE sector's economic contribution and making the case for greater investment in rural SMEs, social enterprises and community businesses.

Rural Domestic Abuse: Secured Devon County Council funding through the Devon Interpersonal and Gender-Based Violence and Abuse Partnership Board in September 2026, in collaboration with the Devon Domestic Violence Alliance. A rural engagement programme will highlight the additional barriers faced by people experiencing domestic and sexual abuse, starting in November 2026.

Rural Transport Poverty: Represented rural communities at two cross-sector Devon Transport Poverty Working Group meetings, contributing to two collaborative projects: exploring transport barriers across the Moor to Sea cluster (Buckfastleigh, Dartmouth and South Brent); and investigating links between rural transport poverty and missed hospital outpatient appointments across Devon and Torbay to improve access to secondary care.

Rural Family Hubs: Attended four Devon County Council Early Years Best Start in Life Strategic Board meetings and successfully influenced the adoption of a rural-proofing approach to the rollout of Rural Family Hubs across Devon.

Integrated Neighbourhood Teams: Engaged with the Place and Transformation team and Chief Medical Officer at the shadow Devon and Cornwall Integrated Care Board to champion rural-proofing in the development of Integrated Neighbourhood Teams.

Rural NHS Student Placements: Attended three meetings with NHS and Exeter and Plymouth universities between May and September 2026 to progress DCT-hosted primary care student placements in rural communities, with the aim of hosting the first NHS Devon Pivot rural community placements in 2027/28.

National Rural Health Advocacy: Contributed to the ACRE Health & Care Rural Proofing Working Group and joined an ACRE delegation meeting with the Department of Health and Social Care in June 2026. Also attended a European Rural Community Alliance/European Commission webinar on rural-proofing and participated in the Chief Medical Officer, Chris Whitty's, Devon visit on 1 May 2026 to discuss the health of small towns and rural areas.

LIFE THROUGH THE RURAL LENS!

Our Rural Lens campaign is here to put all things rural - great, challenging and everything inbetween - into focus, shining a spotlight on the realities of rural life in Devon.

We're pleased to report that since the campaign launch we've had over 34,000 views on our videos and over 48,000 social media impressions!

PLACE-BASED CONTENTIONS AROUND SUSTAINABLE LIVING

DCT is a partner on the four-year Economic and Social Research Council-funded University of Exeter research project, “Governing Sustainable Futures”. The place-based programme explores how, when, and where conflicts arise within local areas around sustainability, and how different processes can help resolve them fairly.

We co-designed and co-lead two focus groups and one stakeholder workshop on active travel solutions and contentious low traffic neighbourhoods in Exeter. Although with an urban focus this time, the research team benefitted from our community listening skills and we will be taking the learnings from these workshops into future rural community examples.

IMPACT: The toolkit that will be developed from this research will facilitate collaborative, productive community discussions about contentious issues, minimising local conflicts around sustainability issues.

Devon Local Nature Recovery Strategy

Wild About Devon

WILD ABOUT DEVON

In June, DCT launched the 2026 Wild About Devon Community Wildlife Grants programme for local community groups to establish or expand initiatives to support local wildlife, encourage learning and volunteering, and increase biodiversity.

We were pleased to be able to double last year's available funding to £10,000, thanks to support from the Devon Local Nature Recovery Strategy. This year we introduced a new grants framework, judging workbook and scoring system as an improved blueprint for future funds.

IMPACT: 53 applications were received covering wildlife conservation, habitat restoration, environmental education and community engagement activities. The new assessment framework improved governance, consistency and fairness while ensuring projects aligned with the Devon Local Nature Recovery Strategy. Match funding and partnership contributions increased the overall value of investment, enabling more communities to develop projects that support biodiversity, volunteering, local participation and stronger connections with nature.

DEVON COMMUNITY DRIVERS

Devon Communities Together and Devon Access to Services are co-delivering the Devon Community Drivers rural transport pilot across Devon, which aims to increase the number of volunteer drivers for community transport schemes, which support people in rural areas to access important services.

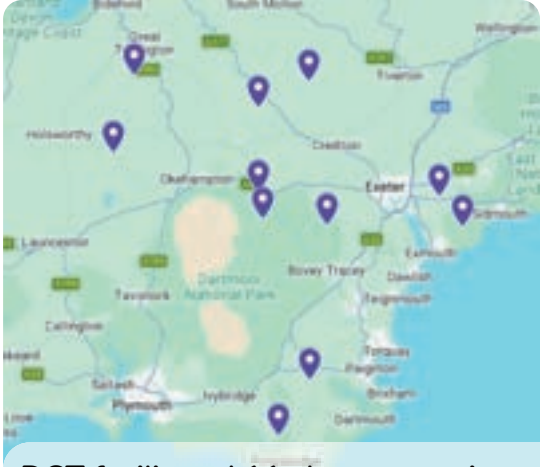

We devised a communications plan and launched a targeted campaign in July, with the aim of raising awareness of the benefits of volunteering and attracting more drivers of working age to help keep the schemes sustainable.

IMPACT: By September 2026, 26 community transport schemes have enrolled, 23 prospective volunteers have been referred and 6 new drivers are actively supporting local schemes. The increased awareness of volunteering opportunities and stronger links between transport providers are supporting more sustainable rural transport services, improving access to healthcare, shopping, social activities and other essential services.

> "Without this support we would have struggled to recruit new drivers."

SUPPORT FOR VILLAGE HALL TRUSTEES

DCT facilitated 11 cluster meetings

There are over 400 village halls across Devon, which are run by volunteer trustees. Our role is to offer guidance to the Trustees, helping to build rural opportunity and decrease isolation by supporting halls to be trusted, safe community assets where a range of things happen.

One way we do this is to facilitate Village Hall-led cluster meetings, where local Trustees come together to share best practice and support each other. Since April, we have held 11 cluster meetings (pictured), attended by 165 trustees in North, Mid, West, and East Devon, and South Hams. Alongside this group support we have handled 175 individual enquiries.

IMPACT: Through practical guidance, peer learning and shared resources, we are helping Devon's village halls become better equipped to meet challenges. From strengthening financial management and safeguarding to improving energy efficiency, legal compliance and digital connectivity, this support has empowered trustees and helped secure the long-term future of these vital rural community spaces.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/services/community-buildings

CASE STUDY: Brayford's new roof

Brayford Village Hall is a vital hub for its isolated North Devon community of around 450 people. When its roof became beyond repair, the hall faced potential closure, threatening a lifeline for local residents and the village primary school.

We visited the hall to understand the challenges, advised trustees on funding applications and potential funders, and helped them plan how to maximise funding opportunities. We also advised on an ACRE Buildings Loan and appealed to DEFRA when an initial appeal was unsuccessful.

With greater confidence and a collaborative approach, trustees secured the funding needed and completed the project on time and within budget. By mobilising local volunteers, they replaced the roof and safeguarded the hall's future. Once at risk of closure, it is now thriving, hosting a wide range of community activities.

> "Whilst we acknowledge the tremendous support provided by both our Committee and the Community, the success of our project couldn't have been achieved without the very important advice and encouragement provided by Julie Matthews and her colleague, Martin Rich from Devon Communities Together. They not only spent an evening explaining the process for our Bid to the Platinum Jubilee Village Hall fund (via ACRE), but Julie in particular shared her vast knowledge and expertise which proved to be the catalyst in our obtaining match-funding from other charity organisations. So a big THANK YOU Julie for all your help." Jane Jeyes, Trustee

POWER IN PLACE

Thanks to National Lottery players, our Power in Place project has received £80,000 over one year from The National Lottery Community Fund - the largest community funder in the UK. This truly life-changing funding comes from the first phase of its Community Power Fund – to support underserved communities in England to affect positive change in their local area. To influence the places they live, the services they use, and the decisions that affect them. The insights from this initial funding will shape a much bigger £100 million Community Power Fund. Power in Place was one of only two rural programmes funded in this phase.

DCT has been meeting with a spread of communities and practitioners in Mid Devon to listen to their needs and aspirations, and identify their assets around health and wellbeing. This includes a Mid Devon Village Hall cluster meeting with 20 attendees; three community listening events with 110 people in Cheriton Fitzpaine, Hemyock and Uffculme; and meetings with five practitioners. The project brings together both voices in listening and co-design events, looking at what good health and wellbeing looks like in Mid Devon.

IMPACT: Supported by us, the Power in Place project is listening to and understanding what communities want and need, supporting them to be central to decisions and action. We are working together to develop a model for rural health and wellbeing hubs within those local communities through assets such as village halls. We're providing expertise and support but ultimately the drive is coming from within the communities, demonstrating there really is 'Power in Place'.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/power-place

DCT was delighted to host some of our funders from The National Lottery, who visited Mid Devon to hear directly from the communities we're working with. It's particularly exciting that the learnings from this pilot and others across the country, will help shape the future of the Community Power funding programme - and while most other pilots are in urban locations, we are pleased to be encouraging them to look through the rural lens!

VIBRANT VILLAGES

Vibrant Villages is a major new three-year project, funded by the Esmee Fairbairn foundation, to enable collective rural leadership and influence to grow across Devon's rural and coastal communities, with a focus on community buildings as hubs for activity.

The first six months have focused on building the specialist project team, developing our methodology and - most importantly - listening to communities.

The three new Rural Community Connectors have established themselves within their three local areas across Devon, which are North Devon and Torridge, South and West Devon, and East Devon. They have attended 11 local and strategic meetings to begin the work of enabling communities to connect with strategies that will impact them in the coming years.

Listening sessions are taking place, which will help build bridges between communities and strategic organisations. Crucially, the project is working collaboratively within DCT to enable the many community buildings we support to connect with the project when they are ready.

IMPACT: New working partnerships are emerging with key strategic organisations, bringing more depth of understanding of rural issues. This includes within our own organisation, as the team learns the context in which they're working in their areas of Devon. Communities will be more actively engaged in matters that affect them and have greater influence.

DEVON RURAL HOUSING SEMINAR 2026

Following the success of last year's event, DCT (on behalf of the Devon Community Housing Hub), organised the Devon Rural and Community Housing Seminar 2026, which bought together more than 40 stakeholders in rural housing, including Community Land Trusts, Parish Councils, Housing Associations and local authorities to hear from a range of speakers covering the key issues in rural housing.

> "As a private developer, I thought I may feel out of place at this event, but it was quite the opposite. I very much enjoyed the energy and sense of collaboration towards the mission of providing good quality affordable housing."

Devon Community Housing Hub

COMMUNITY EMERGENCY HUBS

Managed by DCT, the Devon Community Resilience Forum (DCRF) supports communities to prepare for emergencies such as severe weather, power cuts and cyber-attacks through Community Emergency Planning.

This year, Devon Communities Together is providing a free Community Emergency Hub kit (pictured) to 100 communities across the county. Community Emergency Hubs are community-run spaces where local people can come together to support one another and take swift, safe and effective action in those crucial early moments before emergency services arrive.

To date, we have enrolled 58 Community Emergency Hubs, raising awareness of the initiative through delivering six online presentations to 73 participants from 30 organisations, and providing a video version for easy access: www.youtube.com/watch?v=ySTZx6Zbv9s&t=6s

We have also supported six communities to develop their full Community Emergency Plans.

IMPACT: The take up of the hubs scheme means that a significant number of communities who don't have an emergency plan have increased their emergency resilience. It also provides a starting point to develop a full emergency plan in the future. Six communities have become more resilient by making significant progress towards completing their emergency plans.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/devon-community-resilience-forum

CONNECTING PEOPLE AND LANDSCAPES

DCT is a strategic partner in the Connecting People and Landscapes in a Changing Climate project, which is led by the Bat Conservation Trust, and brings together farmers, landowners and communities across the South West and beyond to create a more resilient landscape in the face of a changing climate.

Our focus over the past six months has been to lead the communications with rural communities to raise awareness of the project and encourage people to attend local events. We have also promoted and managed a small grant scheme for community groups to foster a deeper connection between the community and local farms, encourage sustainable practices, and increase involvement in environmental and agricultural activities.

Since April, 762 people have engaged with the project's events and we successfully awarded 13 grants to a value of £5,000, providing advice and support to 13 unsuccessful applicants.

IMPACT: Communities understand more about nearby farming practices, learn new skills and develop a closer connection with their local landscapes.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/connecting-people-and-landscapes-phase-2

CASE STUDY: Exminster Community Garden

Exminster Community Garden secured a grant through Connecting People and Landscapes to deliver summer activities for children, including a potting bench commissioned through the local NHS wellbeing project.

Four Friday morning sessions welcomed 22 children and 18 adults, exploring sowing and growing, wildlife gardening, watering and feeding, and harvesting food. Feedback from children and adults was very positive!

The project also highlighted valuable lessons for future sessions, including providing shade and wet-weather cover, keeping groups to around six children, improving garden paths and layout, and carefully planning activities to ensure a smooth flow between sessions.

Connecting People and Landscapes project is made possible with The National Lottery Heritage Fund.

East Devon

STRENGTHENING EAST DEVON'S VCSEs

The East Devon VCSE Support Service provided one-to-one business planning, governance, safeguarding and funding support to community groups and social enterprises across Exmouth, Sidmouth, Axminster, Honiton, Dunkeswell, Ottery St Mary and Seaton.

Since April, we've supported 19 organisations with business planning, 22 with funding and financial resilience, 15 with safeguarding improvements, and influenced 9 funding bids, with 44 people attending our training sessions. We also facilitated five engagement events.

> "What a fantastic opportunity to learn, to all share, what's really going on, what are we really doing well for our communities, and what are we really not?"

IMPACT: The service strengthened the capacity and resilience of VCSE organisations across East Devon by improving governance, safeguarding, funding readiness and partnership working. The support enabled emerging initiatives such as HappiBeats in Exmouth to secure funding and grow, while organisations including Axminster Memory Café, Sid Valley Foodbank and rural groups in Dunkeswell gained stronger systems, clearer governance and improved access to funding, networks and community support.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/east-devon-vcse-support-service

CASE STUDY: Start-up training

DCT was contacted by Axminster Community Shed to discuss their project's growing requirements. They wanted assistance with systems management, DBS checks, and volunteer management, and to know if we could facilitate a training session to cover these areas.

While developing the training package in line with the requirements of the Axminster Community Shed we discovered that many other voluntary organisations and groups we were engaging with had similar requirements. There has now been enough interest in this type of training that we've made a decision with Axminster Community Shed to open the training to the wider East Devon VCSE community. One request for training has opened up opportunities for other groups to get involved and develop their skills and capacity!

> ...that's fantastic Anderson, it will help us as we are a rapidly growing organisation." Colin Hayward, Axminster Community Shed

ENERGY SUPPORT

DCT is commissioned annually by the National Citizens Advice Service, through the National Energy Outreach Programme to identify, advise and support those vulnerable rural residents struggling to pay energy bills and keep warm.

This year's programme started in July, with 19 events having been booked so far in rural and coastal communities across Devon. We have already delivered one affordable energy event for Sidmouth Food Bank and have provided individual advice to three householders. We are also working in partnership with East Devon District Council Community Housing Team to deliver energy saving sessions at all seven of their sheltered accommodation across the district.

IMPACT: Three residents are able to take steps to reducing their energy costs. Feedback from the previous year demonstrates that the advice we provide results in real cost benefits for clients - one customer had reduced their monthly energy costs from £140 to just under £26 following our advice (see below).

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/energy-outreach-project

CASE STUDY: Switching to an Electric Vehicle tariff

We recently met a client we originally advised six months ago when they wanted support around the best tariff for an electric vehicle. At the time, we had discussed the individuals' requirements for the vehicle and how they would typically use it. We also spoke about Octopus Energy and the benefits of choosing a tariff that would meet their future needs, explaining that they could take advantage of Octopus's referral incentive, which gives £50 each to both the referrer and the person being referred. Another individual joined the conversation, shared their experience of using Octopus and offered to refer them. They exchanged contact details, and the switch to Octopus was completed there and then.

Fast froward to September 2026 and they told me how pleased they were with the switch to Octopus Energy. They had reduced their monthly energy costs from £140 to just under £26! Following the energy-saving session, they were using less energy and had put many of the recommendations into practice. They have since become involved with a group of older people, and we have arranged for the project to visit them later this year.

> "Anderson was very knowledgeable, very kind, and helpful. Sorted out a few things and I've recommended him to other people."

PRINCETOWN COMMUNITY GRANT FUND

DCT was delighted to be commissioned by the Duchy of Cornwall to manage its new £250,000 Princetown Community Grants Fund, launched in September following conversations with residents, community groups and local partners about the village's future.

DCT promotes the fund and supports community organisations with their applications, alongside managing the application, panel and administration processes. Grants range from £500–£5,999 for small projects and £6,000–£40,000 for larger initiatives. Applications can be made at the link below!

The fund launched on 15 September with a special visit from HRH the Prince of Wales, who showed great enthusiasm for its potential impact. DCT has already supported nine organisations with applications and looks forward to announcing the first recipients in November.

IMPACT: Princetown, a remote rural town experiencing significant deprivation, is set to benefi t from community-led initiatives that create lasting change.

www.devoncommunities.org.uk/projects/princetown-community-grants-fund-2026-27

TACKLING DIGITAL EXCLUSION

As Chair of the Torbay, Plymouth and Devon VCSE Assembly Digital Inclusion Group, DCT facilitated the collaborative VCSEs Driving Digital Inclusion Together in June, a first-of-its-kind event bringing together 62 representatives from charities, community organisations, social enterprises and public sector partners to share ideas, learn from each other, and shape a stronger collective response to digital exclusion in our communities.

The Group also worked with One Devon NHS to use feedback from the event to design and launch the £85,000 NHS Digital Inclusion Delivery Fund, designed to support delivery of the NHS Devon Digital Inclusion Place-Based Delivery Plan 2026 through 11 VCSE grants, enabling community organisations to overcome digital barriers and improve access to health services.

IMPACT: The VCSE sector is playing a leading role in driving forward tanglible initiatives to tackle digital exclusion, addressing the inequalities that arise in digital skills and access across Devon and ultimately suporting people to benefi t from online healthcare.
